Mr. PHILLIP BURTON (during the reading). Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate amendments to the House amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California?

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, and I do so only to ask the gentleman from California (Mr. PHILLIP BURTON) if he would briefly explain the changes that have been made in this Omnibus Park bill.

Mr. PHILLIP BURTON. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman yield?

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. I yield to the gentleman from California.

Mr. PHILLIP BURTON. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman will yield, as the gentleman from California knows, this bill is virtually identical to the House-passed version a few days ago. The House position is virtually in all respects protected. This is approved by the executive department, and I am quite pleased with the result.

Mr. Speaker, any list of participants who deserve particular credit for enactment of this legislation must include MATT McHUGH and JOE McDADE, our colleagues from the Appropriations Committee. During his service on the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, Representative McHUGH authored the section of the bill designating the Upper Delaware River as a component of the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System. His persistence and hard work have brought forth an innovative solution to this river which will preserve its character with a maximum of local public involvement.

Representative JOE McDADE offered invaluable assistance and his unwavering support throughout the development of this proposal.

Representative JOHN BURTON has spent uncounted hours in pursuit of the expansions of both Point Reyes National Seashore and Golden Gate National Recreation Area. His unflagging effort to resolve a host of land use and preservation issues associated with these additions has resulted in the addition of some 6,000 acres to these beautiful and heavily visited recreation areas.

Another expansion of an existing area is the Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area in Ohio. During the 93d Congress, Representatives JOHN SEIBERLING and RALPH REGULA succeeded in their effort to establish this new recreation area in close proximity to the major populations of the Greater Cleveland-Akron area. They have authorized the section of this measure which rounds out the boundaries of the recreation area and provides the initial major authorization for the visitor facilities that have been planned.

The progress of this legislation was shaped and assisted by many of our colleagues in the Senate. While I will not attempt to mention all those who have played an important role in this enterprise, I must offer my personal thanks to the subcommittee chairman, JAMES ABUREZK, and the ranking minority member of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, Senator CLIFF HANSEN, as well as their capable and effective staff members, who labored mightily to produce this result. JIM ABUREZK and CLIFF HANSEN are closing their careers in the U.S. Senate and this legislation is but one further testament to their dedicated and effective leadership in preserving our country's natural and historic heritage.

Chairman HENRY M. JACKSON of the Senate Committee again demonstrated his long-standing interest in these issues and his work in shepherding the measure through its final stages was superb.

Senator ALAN CRANSTON played the key role in pressing forward to include the bill on the priority list for Senate passage, and was instrumental in securing the debate time necessary to pass this measure.

A joint Senate and House effort led to the inclusion of the magnificent New River Gorge in this measure. Senators ROBERT BYRD and JENNINGS RANDOLPH worked in close cooperation with Representative NICK JOE RAHALL to develop the consensus that has made this project a reality.

In deliberating a long and complex measure such as S. 791, the continued interest and hard work of many committee members is vital. Representatives LAMAR GUDGER and PAUL TSONGAS lent their efforts in the formative stages of this legislation and worked selflessly to insure that the committee reported a well-constructed measure. Their continuing assistance has been crucial to the success of this matter.

Representative BRUCE VENTO also contributed mightily to this effort and deserves our thanks for his time and effectiveness.

I believe it is fair to say that one of the strengths of S. 791 is the bipartisan effort which led to its enactment. Our ranking minority member on the subcommittee, Representative KEITH SEBELIUS, has been a most constructive force in guiding the substance and progress of this effort.

Representative JOE SKUBITZ, who is closing his career as ranking minority member of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, can look back with pride at this capstone to his long efforts to protect and preserve these important areas.

Many Members have assisted the committee by bringing to our attention meritorious projects which could be considered in this omnibus measure. Representative JAMES BROYHILL joined by Representative LAMAR GUDGER championed a study of the Overmountain Victory Trail, an important route related to our American Revolution. Representative JAMES QUILLEN has worked for and succeeded in increasing the development authorization for the Andrew Johnson National Historic Site. Through the efforts of Representative DEL LATTA, vitally needed funding has been authorized to repair and restore the facilities at Perry's Victory and International Peace Memorial.

Representative JAMES FLORIO worked until quite literally the 11th hour of this legislation to develop and refine the optimum language for a framework to conserve the Pine Barrens area of New Jersey, joined by his colleagues, Representatives HUGHES and FORSYTHE.

Another joint House-Senate effort is surely the urban park and recreation recovery program contained in S. 791. Representatives JONATHAN BINGHAM and JOHN SEIBERLING have again demonstrated their unflagging commitment to improving these programs and Senator HOWARD METZENBAUM and his staff refined this product to its final form.

The magnificent Rio Grande River in Texas will now be preserved in our National Wild and Scenic Rivers System, thanks to the efforts of Representative BOB ECKHARDT.

Representative TOM DOWNEY has been steadfast in his resolve to insure full protection for Fire Island National Seashore. His hard work has resulted in provisions that will maintain the fragile dunes of this barrier island free from further development.

The measure reflects Representative GEORGE MILLER's continuing efforts for the upgrading of the John Muir National Historic Site. Representative AL ULLMAN who shepherded the John Day Fossil Beds National Monument into reality in the 93d Congress has continued his work in this measure to adjust the boundaries of this area to afford better protection to its important values.

A major increase in the land acquisition for the Sawtooth National Recreation Area is due to the good work of Representative NORMAN DICKS and STEVE SYMMS in conjunction with Senator FRANK CHURCH.

A fortunate addition to the list of wild and scenic river designations is that of the American River in northern California, thanks to the personal interest and continued work of Representative HAROLD (BIZZ) JOHNSON. And a special bow should go to Representative BILL GRADISON whose long standing interest in the preservation of the superlative Red River Gorge in Kentucky led to its inclusion for study as a potential wild and scenic river.

Hawaii's two House Members, DANIEL AKAKA and CECIL HEFTEL, both freshmen, successfully pressed their case that Kaloko-Honokohau National Historical Park be established in order to preserve from extinction certain historical and cultural areas and traditions of ancient Hawaiians. Thanks to these two Members' efforts, Native Hawaiians and all their descendants will have continuing access to their "roots."

A segment of the Missouri River, from Gavins Point Dam, S. Dak., to Ponca State Park, Nebr., has been designated as a wild and scenic river because of Virginia Smith from Nebraska, Hess Dyas from Nebraska, and Tom Daschle from South Dakota. The Contributions of the latter to the successful inclusion of this provision in the bill are particularly noteworthy because they are not yet in the Congress. Hess Dyas is a candidate for Congress from the First District of Nebraska and Tom Daschle is running for a seat from the First District of South Dakota. If their lobbying efforts are any indication of their potential effectiveness as House Members, their would-be constituents should look forward to two very effective and dynamic Congressmen.

St. Paul's Church, Eastchester, in Mount Vernon, N.Y., will be preserved and protected for present and future generations thanks to DICK OTTINGER's untiring efforts to include this in the omnibus parks bill.

Without JOSH EILBERG's dedication to bringing this about, the bill as sent to the White House might not have contained the section authorizing the establishment of the Edgar Allen Poe National Historic Site.

Additional land has been added to the Oregon Caves National Monument in Oregon, due to the efforts of our colleague, JIM WEAVER, the outstanding Member from that State. As a member of the House Interior Committee, JIM's contributions to the cause of conservation are continuous and substantive.

In particular I want to single out for my heartfelt thanks and unstinting praise the hard working members of our subcommittee. All of them, Democrats and Republicans alike, made important contributions to the omnibus parks bill. They are: BOB KASTENMEIER, TONY WON PAT, RON DE LUGO, JIM FLORIO, DAWSON MATHIS, JOHN KREBS, PETER KOSTMAYER, AUSTIN MURPHY, LAMAR GUDGER, BAL-TASAR CORRADA, JONATHAN BINGHAM, BOB ECKHARDT, PAUL TSONGAS, MO UDALL, KEITH SEBELIUS, JOE SKUBITZ, DON CLAUSEN, PHIL RUPPE, BOB BAUMAN, and BOB LAGOMARSINO. Our late beloved colleague, Goodloe Byron, should also be cited here for his numerous contributions right up to his untimely death this week. I am convinced that no other subcommittee chairman has such a fine group of intelligent, energetic, creative and committed members as I can boast of the membership of the House Interior Subcommittee on National Parks and In-sular Affairs.

As one who introduced the bill unsuccessfully many years ago when I first came to Congress, I want to express my appreciation and admiration to my friend and colleague, the gentleman from California, JOHN KREBS, who was the successful author of the Mineral King component of this legislation. His leadership will make it possible for countless Americans to enjoy the unique beauty of this scenic alpine valley, yet provide appropriate protection from the threat of commercialization.

Georgians can thank BO GINN and DAWSON MATHIS, their two able House Members, for the increase in the authorized development limitation for Andersonville National Historic Site. With this increased authorization, the construction of an information center, roads and parking, reconstruction of part of the prison stockade and other parts of the park can now be funded.

LINDY BOGGS, our colleague from Louisiana, and our friend, BENNETT JOHNSTON, the Senator from the same State, are responsible for the inclusion in the bill of Jean Lafitte National Historical Park. They were assisted in their efforts by Jerry Huckaby. This park, long sought after by the people of Louisiana, will now become a reality thanks to these three fine Members of Congress.

With the final approval of S. 791, the beauty and recreational benefits of the Santa Monica Mountains area will be preserved forever for people not only from the State of California, but from everywhere in this great country. And all those people who take advantage of these benefits in future can thank in particular three House Members and one Senator who relentlessly worked to bring this recreation area into being. TONY BEILENSON, BARRY GOLDWATER, JR., BOB LAGOMARSINO, and Senator ALAN CRANSTON are to be applauded for their outstanding efforts. Generations to come will benefit from their refusal to give up their willingness to negotiate, their ability to put partisan feelings aside for the betterment of their constituents.

Mr. Speaker, I want to clarify that the Melcher amendment in the Senate committee amendment to the omnibus bill was accepted by the House with the clear and unambiguous understanding that it applied exclusively to the exchange of lands owned by the Burlington Northern Railroad on either the Beaver Head or the Gallatin National Forest in the State of Montana.

This understanding on behalf of the House is based on the expressed assurance by the distinguished senior Senator from the State of Montana, Mr. MELCHER, to this Member.

Devotees of Carl Sandburg owe LAMAR GUDGER a debt of thanks for his successful efforts to increase the authorized development limitation at Carl Sandburg National Historic Site in order to permit construction of a visitor orientation facility and various other improvements needed on the property.

The Boston National Historical Park will be enriched by the addition of Dorchester Heights. The Member who played the vital role in securing this extra land for the park was our colleague from Boston, JOE MOAKLEY. Additionally, it was JOE who led the effort in the Rules Committee to secure a favorable rule for the bill.

The Palo Alto Battlefield in Texas has been designated a national historic site because of KIKO DE LA GARZA's effective efforts to bring this about.

The compelling leadership of PETER KOSTMAYER, from Pennsylvania, was displayed when he was joined by his colleagues, ANDY MAGUIRE, HELEN MEYNER, and MILLICENT FENWICK (three Members from New Jersey), to bring about a favorable disposition of the Tocks Island controversy. He is responsible for the middle segment of the Delaware River being designated as a wild and scenic river and protected from the building of the controversial dam on the Tocks Island site heretofore selected for this dubious distinction. People from the surrounding areas with frequent access to the Delaware Gap National Recreation Area can thank those four Members for saving this beautiful area with all of its wildlife, recreational facilities, archeological treasures, and other assets from the devastation of flooding.

Credit for bringing about the inclusion of Friendship Hill as a national historical site in Pennsylvania goes to AUSTIN MURPHY, the dedicated first-term Member from the 22d District.

There are innumerable people, both in Washington, D.C. and around this country who have given of their time and energies to contribute to the success of this effort. No list of them could be complete. But here is a small sample with my thanks to those many others who can measure, in terms of their own satisfaction, their personal contributions that made enactment of the National Parks and Recreation Act of 1978 possible:

Mr. LAGOMARSINO. Mr. Speaker, further reserving the right to object, I want to compliment the gentleman from California (Mr. PHILLIP BURTON) for steering this bill through a very intricate legislative maze. I think he has done a real service to this House on this legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my reservation of objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California that the Senate amendments to the House amendment be considered as read and printed in the RECORD?

There was no objection.

The SPEAKER. Is there objection to the first request of the gentleman from California?

There was no objection.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
